

WHY YOU SHOULD CHOOSE HAVERING SIXTH FORM COLLEGE...

Students have positive attitudes to learning and behave very well in College. Attendance and punctuality levels are high and students develop good social and personal skills.

Students' behaviour at college is good. They are well behaved and courteous, respecting staff and other students, responding well to the college's clear and high expectations. OFSTED 2017

Teachers are enthusiastic and use their good subject knowledge effectively. They have a good rapport with students and expect them to work hard in lessons. Students enjoy their studies and are encouraged to work collaboratively which develops wider work skills, such as team working and problem solving, which enhance their chances of future employment.

Teachers instil in students an enthusiasm for their subjects, and help them make good links between their learning and aspects of life in modern Britain. OFSTED 2017

The College has a diverse community with a welcoming and harmonious atmosphere. Recent investments in accommodation and learning resources have already enhanced the student experience and there are more to come before August which means this is an excellent place in which to learn.

Teachers and managers ensure that learners have a good understanding of the importance of equality and have positive attitudes to diversity. OFSTED 2017

The College's pastoral system is highly effective in supporting students' personal, social and health needs to improve their well-being and provide the right academic support for them to achieve well.

Through the comprehensive coaching programme, students receive good support, keeping them on track. OFSTED 2017

The College has a successful Aiming High programme incorporating the Extended Project Qualification (EPQ) which is held in high esteem by universities, and offers targeted preparation for Oxbridge, Russell Group universities and Medical schools and provides the stretch and support that those students who have the potential and desire to apply to the most competitive universities and courses will need.

High-quality careers guidance supports students well in making informed choices about their futures. OFSTED 2017

Recent Department of Education Key Stage 5 progression data put the College at the top of the league table for all East London colleges and sixth form colleges and in the top 10% for progression compared with all schools, sixth forms and colleges in the UK. A large majority of students, from a wide range of backgrounds, go on to higher education and in addition, large numbers of students progress to employment, including roles in highly regarded companies.

Students' progression to higher education and employment, following their studies, is very good. The college is the best-performing college in east London for student progression to positive destinations, and is in the top 10% of all schools, sixth forms and colleges in the UK. OFSTED 2017