Disadvantaged Policy

A significant proportion of students at RLS are disadvantaged. We never use this as an excuse; rather, it adds to our moral purpose. Our school motto is:

'Where boys are ambitious, where boys succeed'

And this applied to all of our students independent of their socio economic background.

Responsibility

The Disadvantaged Student Coordinator Teacher is responsible for the Disadvantaged policy. There is a link Governor. Any changes made to this policy are discussed with the Senior Leadership Team and then passed onto the Governors.

Rationale

Royal Liberty School is driven by a moral imperative to ensure that all of our students have equal opportunities which lead to success in life. It is a fact that 48% of privately educated students gain a place at a highly selective university, while only 2% of students eligible for free school meals do the same. Additionally, just 16% of students eligible for free school meals make it to university, compared to 96% from independent schools. Perhaps most concerning of all, just 29% of disadvantaged students choose to study A Levels after they have completed their GCSEs. Our approach to disadvantaged students seeks to address potential barriers for such students such as: low levels of literacy and numeracy, poor learning to learn skills, deprivation of wider cultural experiences, poor organisation and low aspirations.

Through wise use of additional funding we are fully committed to ensuring that the individual needs of each entitled student are met. As a result of our approaches, these students will make better progress and achieve higher standards that would have been likely without it.

It is for schools to decide how the student premium allocated to their school is spent. Schools are held accountable for their use of the additional funding to support students from low-income families and the impact this has on educational attainment. School performance tables now include a 'Narrowing the Gap' measure showing how disadvantaged students perform in each school. Since September 2012, schools have had to publish online details of their student premium allocation and their plans to spend it in the current year.

We are determined that Disadvantaged students will receive Quality Teaching:

- a) Teachers' planning of lessons will explain precisely planned strategies to ensure that Student Premium students have opportunities to make better than expected progress.
- b) Any students who are falling significantly outside of the range of expected academic achievement in line with predicted performance indicators will be monitored by class teachers and subject/faculty leaders, and interventions will be put in place.
- c) If a student has been identified as underachieving, or possibly having special educational needs, they will be closely monitored by teaching staff in order to gauge their level of learning and possible difficulties.
- d) The student's class teacher will take steps to provide differentiated learning opportunities that will aid the student's academic progression and enable the teacher to better understand the provision and teaching style that needs to be applied. Interventions will be monitored, progress assessed and adjustments to differentiation made where necessary.
- e) The Disadvantaged Student Co-ordinator, and SENDCo when appropriate, will be consulted as needed for support and advice and may wish to observe the students in class.
- f) Through (c) and (d) it can be determined which type of provision the student will need going forward.
- g) Parents/carers will be informed fully of every stage of their student's development and the circumstances under which they are being monitored. They are encouraged to share information and knowledge with the school which is germane to social and academic success.
